LONDON, April 77.—The Pall Mail Gazette today contains a most sensational article, headed "Rumors of an attempt to shoot Gladstone." The type used in the headlines are the largest in use for that purpose. The paper states that the alleged attempt upon the Prime Minister's life was made while Mr.
Gladstone was walking through St. James Park at midnight last night on his way to his home in Downing street.

The story is based upon the fact

The man under friends are willing to admit. The man under arrest is named Wm. Tounsend. He is 38 years old, and is a resident of Sheffield. The officer who arrested him saw him mount the steps of Mr. Gladstone's residence shortly after Mr. Gladstone had entered. When the policeman ordered him to descend he fired at the officer and struggled desperately against being arrested. Tounsend asserts that the discharge of the revolver was accidental. Some of the entries in the note-book read: "The Irish home-rule bill has passed its second reading by a full majority, including Mr. senders. Talking does not convert. Now is the time for action. I might willfully murder you. Would nothing of the kind be justified? Now to prove it. What says Sir Vilenry James? See Gladstone's speech of Latnight. What says Sanderson?"

When the shooter was arraigned in the Bow treet Court this morning the policeman who rrested him said the man had discharged a voolver in the Horse Guards parade near lowning street. He evidently intended to hoot the officer. An examination of the ote book revealed the fact that it contained mass of ravings against Irish home rule, mid which was a suggestion that the mur-er of Mr. Giadstone would be justifiable. ressing the Ships as Seen From the Shore When the Clouds Lifted-Excursionists Disappointed by Delay Restrictions - Embarking of and the President and His Party on the Dolphin-The Thunderous Sa lutes as the Boat Moved Up the Line-Reception of Visiting Ships' Officers.

New York, April 27.—Rain on the roof, rain washing the sidewalks, raindrops pricking the river surface, rain wetting the decks and the rigging of the pulseless war monsters riding at anchor; wetness above, moisture be-low, permeating, saturating everything everywhere-such were the conditions of the early morning about this flag-covered bunt-ing-dedecked city.

In the night-time a storm that had its night yesterday away to the westward had stolen over the Jersey hills and wrapped the war squadrons on the river; had settled down pon the city and blotted out the sea from the people ashore. Along the Hudson cloud and water had become one. A dull gray curtain lay low and thickly over all.

The night gare way slowly to the struggling light. To those who were astir as the daylight wore off the edge of the night the ships had been spirited away in the darkness and no eye could reach into the gray thick-ness where the black waters wallowed about their iron sides and sullenly swashed at prow and stern. As the growing day advanced, however, a straying breeze felt its way over the banks and across the waters where the fleets were. It broke its way through the mists and before the tattered fogs closed in again the ghostly outlines of masts and the ines of the hulls were seen.

First the masts and fighting tops of the war vessels were revealed, appearing to be suspended in air, the lower cloud concealing

One of the most using results of the storm through the night was the wilted and forlorn looking condition of the many beautiful decorations of buildings throughout the city. All their fine effect of yesterday had passed away in the night, and the watersoaked bunting was as dull in color as the leaden skies above. The fings on the hou setops floated heavily in the stiff breeze. After awhile all New York had aroused for its holiday, only to find a steady downpour of rain ushering in the day of the great naval pageant. They found a chilly northeast wind adding to the discomfort, and some hundred thousand persons who had arranged to view the grandest marine spectacle ever presented in American waters, if not in the world, were disappointed.

the grandest marine spectacle ever presented in American waters, if not in the world, were disappointed.

Although it was a legal holiday in town the early morning crowds on the elevated trains and surface cars, with the crowds that poured into the city from the ferries and across the bridge, did not look like holiday crowds. The rain did not keep them all at home, however. There was a steady stream toward the North River all the morning, and hundreds of excursion boats, steam yachts, tugs and other craft which had been pressed into service were filled with sight-seers who were not kept at home by Farmer Dunn's disgraceful weather.

PATRIOTISH IN THE RAIN.

Their patriotism and their enthuslasm carried them through the wet. Other crowds who sought places along the docks, on tops of buildings and at Riverside Park plodded through mud and stood in pools of water with umbrellas and mackintoshes keeping out a portion of the wet. Vantage places under cover were in the open air and watched the proceedings on the river.

the open air and watched the proceedings on the river.

The Weather Bureau got many imprecations from the shore and on the water. There was great disappointment on the squadrons anchored below the Palisades. The crack ships of ten nations drawn together at the invitation of the United States to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America had been put in readiness for their parts in the celebration. Their hulls had been painted, their decks holistoned, their brasswork polished until it shone and their guns had been cleared for far different work than their makers intended—the camenting of peaceful relations instead of the havoc of war. On board these vessels the rain was most unwelcome. It drenched the decks and rigging and hung in pearly drops from the brasswork. Diress uniforms were abandoned for storm coats and the Jack tars instead of being in holiday rig were in every day attire.

When 80'clock had arrived there were signs of activity on all the vessels of the fleet. From the flagships of each nation the swinging of semaphore arms, indicated that orders were being issued to the fleet. A moment later each vessel ran up a big American flag to the top of the main mast, and big flags of her own country fore and art.

The Spanish, French, Brazilian and Argentine ships ran up lines of streamers on their yards.

tine ships ran up lines of streamers on their yards.

Uncle Sam's white navy floated big holiday flags from each mast. All were the stars and stripes.

At 10 o'clock the United States vessels ran up bunting and the British, Russian, Italian, German and Holiand ships followed suit uptil all were in holiday dress.

The early birds were rewarded in some degree by seeing this 'dressing' of the ships when the Jack tars ran up the flags and pennante and put their vessels in holiday attire. The effect of these decorations was best appreciated by those who had seen the cruislearness of the day. As nearly all the loreign officers spoke or understood English the ceremonies were attended by no stiff formalities, but were marked by cordiality and some degree of conviviality also.

Fifteen minutes before the reception ended, and when the President was preparing to land, an admonitory signal was given from the bolphin; and as he left the vessel and entered his barge at the foot of Ninety-sixth street every vessel in the feet again manned yards and rails and once more fred a salute of twenty-one guns, following the Dolphin's lead. Then the President's flag was lowered from the Dolphin and the public ceremonies of the day were considered over.

APTER THE PORNALITIES.

But the private part of the fun had only just begun. As soon as the Dolphin passed out from between anchored flaet the cordon was broken and private steamers and yachts rushed in. When the smoke had partiy Dolphin.

Just as every one was expecting that the programme would be carried out despite the storm, the announcement was made that the review had been postponed.

At 10:30 a. m. the Cushing started out from Thirty-fourth street and running up along-side of each vessel in line carried the information that the review had been postponed until 20 clock this alternoon. When the excursion steamers heard of this they put back to their docks and there was some grumbling among the passengers who had been getting damper and chillier as the time passed.

The foreign vessels were most of them sta-tioned on the New York side of the Hudson River; the American fleet, with the German, Dutch and Argentine druisers, occupied the New Jersey side. The ships were anchored to yards apart, and a space of 400 yards was left between the two columns.

The United States, by authority of law. ook full possession of the waters of the harbor for this day. A cordon was tightly drawn round the reviewing vessels and the re-viewed and until the actual ceremonies were over no unauthorized boat was allowed to pass the line. At 1:05 o'clock the President left the Victoria Hotel for the foot of Twenty-third street, where he embarked on the Dolphin.

The Dolphin, John Roach's last achievement for the Government, long accused of "structural weakness," had been specially fortified for the occasion by having a great cabin built clean across the ship and covering one-fourth of her entire length constituting a finer dining saloon than that possessed by any yacht that rides the waters. The saloon and the after-cabin had been elegantly decorated, carpeted and refurnished in hand-carved mahogany specially designed.

It was about 20 'clock when the signal was given for the start.
The members of the diplomatic corps had previously gone on board the coast survey steamer Blake, which was moored alongside the Monmouth at the Thirty-fourth street dock.

the Monmouth at the Thirty-fourth street dock.

As soon as the President stepped on board the Dolphin the vessel tripped her anchor and fired one gun as a signal. This was responded to by a boom which seemed to shake the whole city. The double-turreted monitor Miantonomah, lying at the rear of the port column, fred for the first time in port one of her huge ten-inch guns, charged with nearly 250 pounds of powder. Almost before the reverberations of this gun had died away in the distant echoes the whole fleet was called to quarters, yards were manned and every preparation made to receive the President of the United States with becoming respect.

Seen at this moment and before the enveloping clouds of gunpowder smoke from subsequent salutes had obscured the air the scene was as pretty as could well be imagined.

As the Dolphin's bow came in line with each man-of-war "present arms" was sounded on bugle, officers and crew saluted, the bands struck up the national air and a national salute of twenty-one guns was fired national salute of twenty-one guns was fired by each ship.

During the half hour or more that the presidential progress lasted the cannonading never ceased until more than 1,600 guns had been fired.

Towards the close of their booming separate identity had been merged into one titanic roar, while flashes of red flame and dense sulphurous clouds of smoke were all the spectators on the shore could distinguish.

THE SALUTES.

The firing began with the German flagship Kaiserin Augusta and the Brazilian battle-ship Aquidaban; it was taken up in more ponderous manner by the Dutch Van Speyk and the Spanish Infanta Isabel; it was followed by the Argentine Nueve de Julio and the Italian Ætna; was continued by the American Charleston and the French Arethuse, followed by the flagship Newark and the Russian Admiral's ship Dimitri Donskol, and closed by Admiral Gherardi in the Philadelphia and Admiral Sir John Hopkins in the Blaze.

The town was lavishly decorated, and the music of a dozen brass bands and drum corps made the air resound with martial and patriotic airs. The forencon was devoted to hunting up comrades among the Grand Army posts present, and it was not until 3 o'clock that the procession formed.

Before this, flowever, a special train bearing Gov. McKinley of Ohio, the orator of the day, and guests from Chicago, who came at the invitation of H. H. Kohisaat, arrived over the Illinois Central. It was about 120 when this train reached the depot, and carriages were in waiting to convey the forty persons in the party to the place where the parade formed. The procession marched to and closed by Admiral Gherardi in the Philadelphia and Admiral Sir John Hopkins in the

The intervals between the artillery exercises of the flagships were filled up by similar exercises on the part of these vessels of the squadron.

and getting the full benefit of the salutes came the army steamer Gen. Meigs, bearing

The last day's session of the sixteenth annual meeting of the Presbyterian Woman's Board of the Southwest began this morning in the First Church, Washington avenue and Barah strest. Mrs. S. L. Mcafee directed the opening devotional meeting. At 10 o'clock Mrs. L. D. Hopkins, the President, annuanced that the regular programme would be taken up. But first of all she had the delegates sing the hymn, "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken," Mrs. Worthington took the platform to submit to the delegates a novel scheme for the raising of money for missionary purposes. She said that last year the St. Louis members of the board raised $200 by the sale of canceled postage and revenue stamps, and she yolunteered to become the canceled stamp agent for all the members of the board in the Southwest. The committee on place of holding the next annual meeting reported that the only invitation was received from Springfield, Mo., but as the three last meetings have been held in this State the committee left open the recommendation of a place for holding the next meeting, suggesting that the Executive Board should appoint the place during the year. The report was adopted. The Committee on Memorials submitted suitable sentiments on the death of Rev. Robert frwin, late President of Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., Rev. Arthur Mitchell, late Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, and two lady members of the board who died during the year. The report of the Resolutions Committee thanked Dr. Martin and the members of First Church for their reception tendered the delegates yesterday afternoon. The Committee on Reports said that advance was the keynote of all the presbyterial reports.

The Committee to Revise the Constitution was named as follows: Miss Mary Moore, Mrs. d. W. Alien and Mrs. Cairns, for St. Louis; Mrs. Meredith, for Missouri; Mrs. Jonathan Thomas, for Kansas; Mrs. Hume, for Indian Territory, and Mrs. Rankle, for Texas.

Miss Susie E. Tyler, a lady who was born in Zuluiand and has served as a missionary in that country, gave a talk on the missionary in that country, gave a talk on the missionarin Zululand. She described the life in the kraals or native villages. The women, she said, were the drudges. They tilled the fields and harvested the crops, while the men attended drinking bouts and watched the herds. She said that the missionaries were not in danger of harm from the natives, except in the distant regions. She said that a very important part of the work was the boarding school where the native was the boarding school where the native girls were educated in the ways of civilization. Young girls have a rather hard time in Zululand, for the native fathers marry them off for a consideration when only if years old, with perhaps a dozen wives. Miss Tyler stated that a great deal of rum was sent to Africa from Boston. subsequent hoisting of the American flag over the Hawaiian capital by order of Minister Stevens, died here yesterday of congestion of the brain. Capt. Wiltse entered the navy in 1855 as acting mid-shipman, became Lieutenant in 1861, Lieutenant Commander at the close of the war and was promoted to his present rank Nov. 8, 1873.

(apt. Wiltse, if not the chief figure in the seizure of Hawaii, was the real power behind Minister Stevens in his act of establishing a protectorate over the island. Commander Wiltse was what might be called the logic of the situation and the Hoston was the great moral force that stood back of the plan of annexation. History has been a little deficient in giving to the warship and the marines the proper amount of credit for the successful termination of the revolt against Liliuokalani. "I am the State," said Napoleon. "I am Hawaii," might have said Commander Wiltse. At all events, nobody in that part of the universe would have disputed him, for when a man treads the deck of a warship in the South Seas, backed up by the moral support and encouragement of Uncle Sam, he is terrible to the heathen and the unregenerate. When Minister Stevens, on the 1st day of February, issued his proclamation declaring the islands and the new republic under the protection of the United States, the document was only given force by the co-operation of Capt, Wiltse with his marines and big guns of the cruiser Boston. The proclamation read:

At the request of the Provisional Government of the Hawaiian Islands, I hereby, in the name of the Hawail since Envoy Blount arrived on the island. Here are some of the most flowery passages:

The honors which you have on this occasion conferred upon the commanding officer of the Boston are appreciated by the officers and crew of that vessel, and it is with pleasure that I am able to attest the common feeling and on their behalf to thank you for this evidence of approval and good will. While we are sorry to lose him, we nevertheless rejoice to know that he goes home crowned with success and that his Government will reward him as he deserves. It is not often you will find a mantaking risas that might result in the loss of a high position only obtained in a lifetimer yet, when the hor came. Capt. Wiltse did not hesistate but acted at once, and the prompt measures taken by eventing the loss of property. When the stars and stripes rose over the Government building it proclaimed to all Hawaiians that the popular will should occupy the throne of sovereignty, and that the enigmonary has been the inheritance of each generation, and when you took advantage of this occasion you erected a mile-stone in Hawaiian history from which we will march united, charmed by the prophetic musle of a hopeful future, and upon which the names of John L. Stevens and Capt. Wiltse are above in bold roiler. One work may be those here who will live to beginning of a new and progressive policy upon the part of the United States. Annexation in the decades to come, deriving its impetus from the Hawaiian Islands, may be the watchword of a continent; and there may be those here who will live to see the time, predicted by Benjamin F. Batter, when the American flag will be placed so far North that the Esquimau, coming out of his hut in the gray of the early morning, shall mistake it for the Northern learning that the sequimau, coming out of his hut in the gray of the early morning, shall mistake it for the Northern for the bits tered rippless of the tropte seas all men will share on the start of the Northern season had it as the token of a common

Capt. Wiltse was 54 years old and has served in the navy for nearly thirty-eight years. His funeral will be from St. Andrew's Church, at Filty-third street and Fifth avenue, Saturday morning, at 11 o'clock, and he will be buried with military honors at Oak Hill Cemetery at Washington.

Deputy Coroner Rohlfing, who held the in quest on Chris Daugherty, the young man who died Tuesday from a dose of "Rough or hats," wishes to correct the impression that there was any desire on his part to thwart a police investigation. He said to-day:
"We had the testimony of the young man's father that the boy had suffered from eplieptic fits for nearly fourteen years and also the positive statement of the two physicians who had attended him that he had confessed to having taken the polson, and on this evidence I felt justified in finding a verdict of suicide. I could not prevail upon the mother to make a statement at the inquest.

The funeral of the late Patrick McGrath took place this morning from the family residence on Eugenia street to St. Malachy's Church and thence to Calvary Cemetery. The funeral was largely attended by the many friends of the deceased. The various social, benevolent and business organizations of which Mr. McGrath was a prominent member were well represented. The floral offerings were numerous and elaborate and conspicuous among them was a handsome column of roses, six feet high, the last tribute of the Builders' Exchange.

After the impressive funeral services of the Catholic Church had been concluded and Mr. McGrath eulogized in a short sermon by Rev. Fr. Ziegler, the long cortege of more than 100 carriages wound its way to Calvary Ceme-

THE naval review is a beautiful spectacle and the people of the United States have cause to be proud of the excellence of our part of it. But there is a more inspiring spectacle awaiting the nations at Chicago where the arts of peace will be displayed and in this latter competition the United States will no doubt take a still more prominent place.

AN APPALLING SUPPOSITION.

A plece of news comes from Detroit, Mich., which will cause a shiver of apprehension in every large city in the land. The Mayor and Prosecuting Attorney of that city have actually regarded it as a part of their duty to obtain evidence of boodling. They have even looked upon the bribe-givers as sharing the guilt of the bribe-takers and have arrested the manager of the Detroit Electric Light and Power Co. on a charge of attempted bribery, while cases are said to be made against several of his aldermanic accom plices in a conspiracy to rob the city of a valuable franchise.

If this crusade is to spread and the strange, old-fashioned doctrine that the duty of the city officials is not only to refrain from stealing, but to keep others from stealing and punish those who do steal from the municipality, is to prevail, what chance is there for Aldermen to get rich on $25 a month, and eminently respectable citizens to build up fortunes in franchises obtained by bribery? If bribegivers are to be treated as common boodlers, what chance is there for franchisegrabbers to pose as honest and publicspirited citizens?

The supposition is, of course, wildly improbable, but let us suppose that this honesty movement had struck St. Louis and we had a Mayor and law officers who followed this conscientious and comprehensive rule of duty; suppose the bribegivers and bribe-takers were arrested; suppose the citizens who have profited by the corruption of officials and on legislation obtained by bribery were called to answer for their crimes. What a spectacle would the jail present, and with what a list of names would the roll of prisoners be adorned? How many leaders of the city's the dreamers played against the game of wealth and how many pillars of church and society would fall?

It is unnecessary to name the guilty. So notorious are the facts that few people are ignorant of them. But it is impossible to realize the existing conditions without a picture of the consequences which would ensue from exposure and punishment, in which the shame now dismissed with a smile or a sneer would be uncovered and the dishonesty veiled by a pretense of virtue and gilded with wealth and respectability would be revealed in its true

THE HARRIS INQUIRY.

The action of Gov. Flower in appointing commissioner to examine evidence in the murder of his wife, brings prominently before the public mind the question of the duties and responsibilities involved in the exercise of the pardoning power.

Harris has had a fair trial under the laws of the State of New York. He has been convicted of an exceptionally cruel and conviction has been affirmed as just by the highest tribunal of criminal law in the State. He has enjoyed all the advantages and opportunities accorded to accused and convicted persons to establish innocence or to prove injustice or error in the finding of the courts but has failed to do so. Impartial jurymen and judges, after the most exhaustive inquiry in which the widest scope was given to the prisoner's counsel, having pronounced the man guilty, the Governor on the appeal of his friends reopens the case and institutes an extra judicial inquiry for the benefit of the condemned, who has nothing to lose and everything to gain by such a proceeding. Until the full scope and outcome of this inquiry is York. known it is impossible to tell whether it usurps the province of the courts or, if so how far the usurpation extends. 'Upon its face, however, the proceeding as a formal inquiry has the appearance of usurpa

Clearly, in a true view of the exercise of the pardoning power the Governor or who soever may possess it has no responsibility for the finding of the courts. That should be held as conclusive as far as it the law or its severity. His personal opinions and feelings should not figure in his action. It is his duty to uphold both the law and the courts. He has to do solely with facts and circumstances which may be brought to light after the final judgment of the courts. All new evidence brought forward at that desperate extremity demands the most distrustful and careful sifting. It should be really new in the sense of not having been available before. It should be of the stronges the condemned has had a fair opportunity cession to Judge Lynch was equivalent to to prove his innocence and acting accordingly. To reopen the case and decide it on its merits is to abrogate the law and nullify the authority of the courts.

The precedent of the Harris pears dangerous. If Harris is entitled to a formal inquiry into his guilt by a comsioner acting for the Governor, so is very other condemned person, and this rule is, to say the least, of doubtful propriety and uncertain consequen such inquiries are to be co should be under the control of an official board, acting under legal authority and well defined rules.

SUGGESTIONS WANTED.

The St. Louis man with ideas has th opportunity of his life just now. It may be said perhaps that there is always opportunity for any man with ideas, but at present ideas of a particular kind are in special demand in this city.

The World's Fair opens next week Although the Mecca of sight-seeing travelers will be Chicago, yet the whole coun try will be, so to speak, on exhibition. The foreigner who visits the United State primarily to visit the Columbian Exposition will not be content to limit his observations to the Windy City. He will want to see other cities and to take in all the wonders of this great and growing country. The metropolis of the Mississippi Valley has been widely advertised and will be one point of interest to be visited. Thousands of our neighbors will probably stop over in St. Louis in the course of their journey to and from Chicago, and St. Louis should have her best foot foremost.

St. Louis has beautiful parks, a noble botanical garden and other admirable at tractions. The evidence of prosperity may be found on every hand in handsom buildings and beautiful residence places. But there is room for lighter and more brilliant attractions to impress a visitor with the pleasantness of life in St. Louis. It is a long stretch of summer season until the regular fall festivities, which should be brightened with pleasing diversions in the festival year. The programme of the fall festivities cannot be made too varied and brilliant.

The Post-Dispatch invites suggestions of entertaining features. Let the thinktanks of St. Louisans prove their resources.

IT seems to be impossible for the "prac tical politician" to learn anything by experience. The midwinter convention in New York was expected to insure the nomination of David B. Hill to the Presidency and forever discredit the power of theorists, dreamers and spinners of political abstractions like Grover Cleveland. Well the practical men and won. But now Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan of New York plays a trick even more "practical" than the snap convention, hoping to tie the President's hands and get himself nominated to the governorship. He is having no better luck than his friend Hill, however, for Gov. Flower seems to be the only Democrat in the Empire State who does not protest against the Buffalo outrage. The trouble with these "practical" men is that they are not practical.

WE all have our friends, and Mr. Mc-Allister has found a defender. The Louisville Critic says of him: "The Western man who has called Ward McAllister a 'fat chuff' and a 'mouse-colored ass' is Mr. McAllister is in reality a bulb, a sort of boiled onion with the smell removed. Any one who has seen him kangarooing down Fifth avenue at noon-time, with dust on his shoulders and the expression of a fainting halibut in his eyes, will never cold-blooded murder by a jury, and his get angry with him." This reads like truth. The devil is not so black as he is painted, and Mr. McAllister's hue may have been exaggerated by the woolly Chicagoese.

WE certainly have a vast country when two such events as the international naval review and the opening of St. Louis' great base ball, cycling and sprinting park can take place on the same day and both be a success. If there is a difference in the celebrations it is in favor of the park and our resplendent Italian cavalry. The review is evanescent-fading. The park is permanent and the gleam of the Roman helmets is dazzling. The President and the Cabinet would have enjoyed themselves quite as well here to-day as in New

Clark will be allowed to fix his own compensation, and that he will be supplied with all the wax candles he may require. With his superior judgment at the command of the Mexican turf, the sister Republic will have every advantage that ourselves now enjoy.

THE charming manner in which Mr. Pader-ewski plays the plane is not likely to become known to the Columbian Exhibition visitors because the management refuses to admit the instrument which he insists upon using. As Chicago herself prefers a brass band, and the visitors will be too timid to be exacting, it is probable that Paderewski will appear a

Domestic Service

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I see a letter in this evening's Post-Dis PATCH from one signing herself "Peacavy." complaining of the hard life and poor pay of the factory girls.

Why do the girls submit to it when there are so many comfortable homes open to them if they take the position of a domestic? My servants spend their evenings reading the papers or magazines furnished by me; a friend drops in to see them or they go out, returning at a reasonable hour. They have warm rooms and comfortable beds, are well paid and are at no expense. The factory girl is hard worked, many of them look poorly fed and poorly clad. They have beard to pay, and usually spend their money as fast as they earn it. Then they are exposed to more temptations. Many a poor girl's life has been wrecked from such surroundings, whereas had she been a domestic in a nice family she would have learned the better way of living, saved her money and in all probability ended her days in a home of her own. The servant question is becoming a serious matter, and the men are responsible for the nervous prostration of their wives and mothers from their inability to secure efficient help, as they employ the servants down town. papers or magazines furnished by me;

Housekeeper an ! Servant.

To the Editor of the Post- Dispatch: having proper respect paid her? My observation shows in many cases she has more respect and consideration shown her than the mistress she serves. She is in a much better mistress she serves. She is in a much better position than any factory girl, as in most places she makes her own terms. She has good food, also room provided. She will not do any outside work—light fires, empty asnes, carry coals, clean boots or knives; washing, except her own clothes, she will not touch. In many cases has every Sunday and Thursday afternoon out; every other night in the week, and company the night she remains home after dinner or supper. You are not supposed to want any more attendance that night. It often happans the mistress has to teach the girl how to cook, etc. When the girl knows how to do her work she will demand higher wages or leave, which in many cases she does. Then the mistress begins her work over again with another girl. So it goes on. Is it any wonder boarding-houses and hotels are always well filled?

A Street Corner Nuisance.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Now that the summer evenings are drawing near the young "would-be dudes" their brown hats, loose trousers and tancolored shoes are again taking up their usual stands at street corners, and with their with remarks issuit young ladies who have to pass them. This is especially noticeable on Jefferson avenue, from the north side of Benton Park down to Chippewa street. The police should be informed to keep street corners clear from these young mashers; they are almost as big a nuisance as the bad smelling sewers of the same neighborhood. acod.

By giving space to this item in your tolay's issue, which may serve to warn the young men, you will greatly oblige.

A. E. L.

Wants the Address.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I should like to say a few words in reply to the letter signed a "sewing girl" in last evening's issue. I, too, am a sewing girl, id be very grateful if she would and would be very grateful if she would kindly inform me where such salaries as $7 and $8 are paid. I work in a large place where girls of two and three years' experience, and who are experts, only receive $4.50 per week. As I am a competent hand I should like to know where such elegant salaries are to be had, and there are dozens of others who are in the "same boat" with me. Everyone is well aware that the sewing girl's lot is none too bright.

Magnifying Wages.

To the Editor of the Post-Dis I have to laugh at the Doctor when he talks bout wages of factory girls. He is certainly 'talking through his hat,' as the saying goes. Let him ask at some of these tailoring establishments or printing firms and see what the girls make (not one or two girls, but the majority). He will find girls of 18 to 20 years and over working for $3.50, $4 and $5 a week and not even steady work at that. FOREMAN.

The publication by the Post-Dispatch of the fact that the City Treasurer had been sued on his notes and had been borrowing money at usurious rates first attracted public attention to his financial embarrassments. Yow, it was then alleged, acted as Foerstel's agent in dealing with the money lenders, and freely gave his notes with Foerstel's indorsement. S. M. Barton supplied funds on this paper and when he presented the notes for payment Foerstel repudiated them on the ground that they were forgeries. Barton contended that the was perfectly familiar with Foerstel's signature and that the indorsements were genuine, and he brought suit to recover the amounts. # THE RIVER RISING.

An Advance Since Yesterday-No Further Rise Probable. The state of the river is giving rise to no little anxiety. To-day it stands 26.8 feet above the city directrix, a rise of above the city directrix, a rise of one and one-tenth feet since yester-day. At Herrman, Mo., there was a rise of 1.6 to-day. This under ordinary circumstances would mean a rise of about that amount here to-morrow, but it is believed such a rise will not take place in the present instance. The cause of the rise at Herrman is ascribed to the late rains. About the same amount of water fell here as there and by the time the water from above reaches this city, that drained into the river here from the immediate vicinity will probably have run out. County, working up evidence in the Wm. Newby pension claimant case. He returned to the city this morning, but declines to give out the result of his investigation, and as Brentwood is a remote, rural region. The news can not be had from any other source. Mr. Me-Bride says the rules of the Pension Department require the utmost secrecy in such matters and he is not permitted to talk. There lives or did hive an old lady somewhere in the Brentwood neighborhood who the examiner has reason to believe is the mother of the man who claims to be Wm. Newby of White County, Illinois, and wants $20,000 out of the Government in pension arrearages.

The case of Newby is attracting a good deal of attention here. He claims he was at the battle of Shiloh, but remembers little of his wanderings since then up to the time of his landing in White County, Ill. thirty years after and his reunion with eis family, who have no doubt of his identity, although the

The story of Newby's life, as told to Examiner McBride by the strange old man is that he was wounded at Silloh. After becoming unconscious on the battlefield, the first thing he knew was that he was in a Confederate prison, the name of which he does not remember. He was taken thence to Belle Isle, and later to Andersonyilla, where he stad to member. He was taken thence to Belle Isle, and later to Andersonville, where he staid to the end of the war.

When he was released from Andersonville some gentleman became sorry for him and took him to Florida. Newby lived with his benefactor till he died and then began a wandering life. He has since been in overfifty poor-houses. He knows all the managers, and since he has been with McBride has pointed out and introduced the managers of the poor-houses to him, proving that this part of the story is correct.

In 1891 in the course of his wanderings, Newby got into Southern Illinois, in the vicinity of his old home. Then suddenly the cloud lifted from his mind, and for the first time since receiving his wound he remembered his life before the war and remembered that he was William Newby.

He went to his home and was recognized by his wife. William Newby was born in 1875, the date given by this man, though he looks younger.

BELIEF IN ILLINOIS. McLeansboro, Ill., April 27.-Dispatches from Nashville, Tenn., in the Post-DISPATCE recall the fact that the supposed ex-soldier William Newby, has since his "discovery William Newby, has since his "discovery" made his appearance in this city on several occasions, and is generally followed by a crowd, wondering how a man who was as dead as the real William Newby, recorded as killed at Shiloh, was supposed to be, could again appear on earth after an absence of thirty years. Most of them wonder why his hair turned black as old age crept on, and why his eyes should have turned from a light blue to a deep black under any circumstances. When Newby first appeared in this county, about twelve months ago, he told Capt. John Simpeon at Belle City that his name was "Allen" Newby and he certainly knew just as well what his name was then as he did afterward when he claimed to be William Newby. There are a large number of as good citizens as the State can boast living in the northwest part of White County and northeast part of Hamilton County, who knew the only and original William Newby before and at the time of his enlistment in the 40th Illianois and they say this man is not William Newby.

CONIDEMNIED TO DIE

Dr. Buchanan Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

MUST FOLLOW HARRIS TO THE DEATH CHAIR AT SING SING.

Big Fees Charged by the Medical Expert Called Upon to Give Testimony in the Case-The Trial Cost $75,000-Hearing New Evidence in the Hope of Saving Carlyle W. Harris.

New York, April 27.—The jury in the case of Robt. W. Buchanan, tried for wife poisoning, has returned a verdict of guilty of murier in the first degree. The prisoner has been remanded to the Tombs to await sensence. Like the Harris case this trial has been a battle of experts. Like the Harris ace. Like the Harris case this trial masen a battle of experts. Like the Harris been a battle of experts. Like the Harris case, too, it has been a very costly one.

Expert testimony was, of course, absolutely necessary from the very nature of the charge. The experts were to establish a fact about which should cluster the suspicious circumstances pointing to guilt. They were to show that, in their opinion, Mrs. Buchanan died from morphine poisoning and from nothing else. The circumstantial evidence was to prove a motive on Dr. Buchanan's part.

Expert testimony comes high, but the prosecution has to pay for it. The more earned the medical expert, the more valuable his opinion and the higher his fee.

THE PEE OF AN EXPERT. The other day in court Lawyer Brooke, who was rather nettled, asked Prof. Doremus, one of the expert chemists for the prosecution, whether he expected to be paid

"I shall send in my bill at the proper time," said the professor, frigidly.
"And you do not expect to receive less than $5,000, do you?" retorted the lawyer.

than $5,000, do you?" retorted the lawyer.

"You need not answer any such questions, Doctor," interposed Recorder Smyth.

So Prof. Doremus remained silent. Had he been compelled to answer it is extremely probable he would have said, "I do not expect to receive less than $5,000." With Prof. Doremus in the Buchanan trial has been associated Prof. Witthaus, another chemist. Both learned gentlemen testified, ander oath, to the extreme care with which Prof. Doremus in the Buchanan trial has been associated Prof. Witthans, another chemist. Both learned gentlemen testified, under oath, to the extreme care with which they prepared the residues from Mrs. Buchanan's body that they tested for morphine. Weeks were consumed in securing them. Prof. Witthaus was the chemical expert in the Carlyle W. Harris case. He it was who found 1-100 of a grain of morphine in Helen Potts' body. Well-founded rumor declares that Prof. Witthaus' fee in the Harris case was 19,000. It is unlikely that he received less in the Buchanan case. So the fees of the two chemical experts can be set down at $15,000. But they were only two of six experts who appeared for the prosecution.

There were two pathologists, young Dr. Loomis and Dr. Prudden, who searched every tissue of Mrs. Buchanan's body for evidence of some disease that might account for her sudden taking off, and found none. The ordinary fee of a medical expert, when he is engaged for one or two days, ranges from $100 to $250 a day. Dr. Loomis made the petimortem examination on Mrs. Buchanan. He or his assistant—It makes little difference as to the fee—prepared $60 microscopic ''sildes' containing sections from the tissues which were examined. Brs. Loomis and Prudden examined these specimens with the greatest care, for they knew that a man's life hung on their decision. All that occupied valuable time; time that, perforce, was taken from the practice of their profession; time that must be paid for. It is not too much to estimate that each pathologist will receive $6,000.

Teachers of Medicine.

Then there were the two expert diagnosticians, Peabody and Thompson, who were engaged by the prosecution to answer a hypothetical question which embraced the alleged facts ascertained by the chemists and pathologists. Drs. Peabody and Thompson are, as they themselves swore, very busy men. They not only practice medicine, but tench it, and a professorship in a medical cal lectures. Drs. Peabody and Thompson are, as they themselves swore, very porters were set to work, and in a fortnight they had secured sufficient evidence to warrant Buchanan's arrest.

This was accomplished on June 6, last. Detective Sergt. Yon Gerichten arrested him in a down-town cafe on a benefwarrant issued by Judge Martine at District Attorney Nicoll's request. Mrs. Buchanan's body had been exhumed in Greenwood Cemetery the day of his arrest, and as a result of the autopsy Buchanan was locked up. It was shown that Mrs. Buchanan had not died of cerebreal hemorrhage. as certified by was paid experts.

Ar. Nicoll has said that there never was a case more carefully prepared. The preparation cost a great deal of money; the threshing out of twelve jurors whom it took twelve days to secure was expensive. After the trial began, witnesses were brought from Nova Scotia and Pennsylvanta and maintained here for days, their transportation and all their expenses being wald. He has been in the Tombs aver since. Since his arrest considerable more evidence tending to show his guit had been accumulated. The examination of the dead woman's stomach by Dr. Withhaus showed plainly that she had died of morphine poisoning. This Buchanan tried to offset by saying that his wife was a morphine eater. It was charged by the District attorney that buchanan administered the poison, and in order to deceive the physicians, had followed it by an application of belladonna or atropine to disguise the symptoms of poisoning. It was in the determination of these facts that made the trial so largely a battle of scientists.

brought from Active States being brains and maintained here for days, their transportation and all their expenses being paid.

Recorder Smyth, District-Attorney Nicoli and Assistant District Attorney Wellman and Osborne have been occupied for very nearly six weeks with the trial of Buchanan. The salaries they have drawn meantime should be set down as part of the expenses of this trial.

Taking everything together, it is not in the least improbable that the investigation into the true cause of Mrs. Buchanan's death one year ago will cost the taxpayers $75,000.

TRE DOCTOR'S CRIME.

Dr. Buchanan is 28 years old and the woman whose murder is charged to him was his second wife, He was divorced from the first. The second wife died on April 23 last. The dead woman, as subsequent events showed, had a varied career. Her first husband, a Baptist minister named Braden, deserted hist. Then she married a shoemaker by the name of Harry Becker at Easton, Pa. She deserted him and the next heard of her she was the proprietor of a disorderly he use in Newark, N. J. She then married a man named Smith, who died. After his death the woman took the name of Sutherland, under which she married Buchanan.

Buchanan remarried his divorced wife one month after the Sutherland woman's death. They were remarried in Windsor, Nova Scotia, the evening of May 16. A report was published about the marriage, but for some unaccountable reason Buchanan dealed it. It was proved that the doctor had again married Mrs. Buchanan No. I and found the woman hiding in this city. Then stories about his relation with his deceased wife became current. She had made considerable money in her refarious trade, and in considerable woman biding in this city. Then stories about his relation with his deceased wife became current. She had made considerable money in her nefarious trade, and in consideration of the doctor marrying her, it is said, she ma de her will in his favor.

All her property, about $40,000, was to become his provided he willed to her sister and brother $50 each. This will was signed three days before the marriage. Buchanan tired of his wife. They were then living in this city at No. 257 West Eleventh street. She had declared her intention to leave his home and take up her disreputable calling in Newark again. Buchanan was greatly worried at this. He made threats against her to his friends and said that he would not be disreaded by her. He made proparations to leave for Europe.

The day before sailing the woman was taken sick. She died the next day. Drs. B. C. McIntyre and H. P. Watson of West Fourth street signed the death certificate. They street signed the death certificate. They street signed the death certificate. They street she had died of cerebral hemorrhage. They afterwards said that they treated Mrs. Buchanan for cerebral hemorrhage because her husband, who they knew was a playsician, had fold them that she was suffering from it. Litturs were sent to a newspaper stating that Dr. Buchanan had murdered his wife. A half dozen re-

Kinmouth swore that Miss Potts se-cured some morphine pills and cured some morphine pills and a hypodermic syringe from him in the summer of 1890. His reason for not coming forward at the trial was because he wished to escape the notoriety attendant upon giving testimony in the case. Miss Susan F. Jackson, principal of the school where Helen Potts died, stated that deceased had frequently threatened to drown or polson herself. She had frequently seen her taking morphine pills or opium powders, which she was told were prescribed for headgche.

Crawford Mason, one of the jurors who convicted Harris, swore that in view of the new testimony offered he would have returned a different verdict. Mrs. Ethel Douglas, who had been formerly known as Ethel Harris, swore that she had known Helen Potts for several years previous to her death and knew that she was in the habit of taking morphine pills.

This is the second case within a week where persons charged with murder in the first degree have been acquitted by juries in the Criminal Court. Ben Newman, a negro, was acquitted last saturday of the murder of Joseph Mike, a white man, on the steamer Idlewild on Nov. 9, 1891. Newman was defended by the colored atterney, W. M. Farmer. Cecil M. English got clear a few months ago of the charge of murdering Wm. Fitzgerald by taking a change of venue to Pike County, where he was acquitted.

MATRIMONIAL COMPLICATIONS. Jas. H. Whitelegge Don't Know Whether

He Is Married or Single. NEW YORK, April 27 .- Mr. Jas. H. White The jury in the case of Edmund T. now does not know whether he is married or not, and has instituted a suit for divoges. This is the story of the compilications: Mrs. Whitelegge was married in New Jor-sey to Abram Lozier in 1889, and on Oc$ 20, 1866, Lozier obtained a divorce from her on the ground of abandonment. mrs. whitelegge was married in New Jersey to Abram Lozier in 1858, and on Oct. 20, 1886, Lozier obtained a divorce from her on the ground of abandonment. Lozier is still alive. The woman became the common-law wife of Whitelegge in 1886. When Mr. Whitelegge began his action for divorce last month he claimed that his common-law marriage should be declared null because it took place in March, 1868, before Mrs. Lozier was divorced. The wife, through her lawyer, Frank Oilver, put in an answer in which she stated that her common-law marriage with Whitelegge did not not take place in March, 1866, but in November of that year, a month after her divorce.

Then Whitelegge submitted an amended complaint in which all his doubts and desires for a legal construction of his marrial status appeared. He dropped the March date of the common-law marriage, and spoke of it as occurring "some time in the year 1866." He asked the court for a judicial construction of the agreement between himself and the defendant, determining whether or not it constitutes a valid marriage; secondly, whether the children are legitimate. Again, Mr. Whitelegge asks that the agreement between himself and the defendant believed that they were lawfully marrised, and in that event that the children be adjudged legitimate and entitled to succeed to plaintiff's real and personal estate in case of his death.

In the event of the agreement being adjudged void and null at its inception, though case of his death.

In the event of the agreement being adjudged void and null at its inception, though followed by the common-law marriage, the plaintiff asked that the defendant be not entitled to any dower or distribution share.

When the papers came before Judge Barrett he said it was the most peculiar case ever brought before him. He appointed Rugene Stephens of Paterson, N. J., to take testimony as commissioner in regard to Mrs. Whitelegge's first marriage and divorce. In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Whitelegge and their children are living in the same house. They celebrated their sliver wedding two years ago.

Dr. Masden Says He Does Not Belie The name of Mrs. Joseph Specht, wife of the retired merchant of this city, has been brought before the public once more in con-nection with the supposed Theosophical So-nection with the supposed Theosophical Society, an institution at Gunston, Va., where she and her husband have been located for the past two years in the historic structure owned by them and Known as Gunston Hall, erected 150 years ago by George Mas on, the companion of Washington and Thomas Jefferson. Mrs. Specht's name is attached to an interview in a morning paper, in which she says that the statement made by Dr. Masden, pastor of Union M. E. Church, of which she was a member, that she had repudiated Dr. Howard and his beliefs, was untrue. She believes Dr. Howard a good man and says she is convinced of the truth of what she has been studying.

lieves Dr. Howard a good man and says shis convinced of the truth of what she had been studying.

When Mrs. Specht and family left St. Loui about two years ago, having purchased Gurston Hall with its 700 surrounding acre certificates or letters were furnished them to Dr. Masden so that they might be take into the fold of the Episcopal Church at Gurston, there being no Methodist Church that point. After their departure Dr. Madden was interviewed as to Mrs. Specht theosophical beliefs and he now claims the his statements were not correctly put lished. He states that he new said that Mrs. Specht had repudiated any thing or anybody, but he did say-that he did not believe that she had fallen into theosophical research or that she and her husband he used their money to open or conduct such a institution as Gunston Hall is supposed to be. In short, said he knows nothing positiv about Mrs. Specht's religion since ahe is his church, and does not know what has be come of the letters or certificates of transit with which he furnished the family whe they were about to leave St. Louis. The letters, he says, have not been withdrawn this knowledge.

WILLIES TO LET THE BEPUB-LICANS DO THE WORK.

They Claim the Proceedings to Be Insti-tuted by Frederick and Fishback Will Answer All Purposes - Still Allege They Want the Boxes Opened-Health Commissioner Brannan to Go.

The defeated Democrats will not file a contest. This decison of the committee, consisting of George Burnet, Phil Rohan and Andy Haley, was reached yesterday. The committee do not believe that a contest will accomplish anything. They hold that it will only drag on during the summer months and that the final result will not be affected. They claim that their desire to have the boxes opened is, however, as strong as ever, and a full investigation of the ballots will be made. They state they the ballots will be made. They state they are thoroughly satisfied that Frederick and Fishback will contest, and believe that the Democracy will be vindicated of the charge of fraud by the evidence brought forth in these two contests without filing any Demothe legal talent engaged by the contestants, stated this morning that his understanding was that no contest would be filed.

"The Republicans intend to contest the seats of O'Brien and Brown, and the same results can be obtained by the Republicans contesting as there can by contesting the seat of every defeated Democrat."

The contest in the O'Brien-Frederick contest may call only for the opening of certain boxes, but the contestee can if he chooses see that they are all opened.

Mr. Phil Rohan, one of the committee stated this morning that the committee had about decided that the thing to do was to drop the contest.

"The Pohlman-Staed contest," said Mr. Rohan, "will take up a great deal of time and we will not be able to do much until that is finished, because that will take precedence over the new contests filed. The opening of the boxes in the Frederick-O'Brien contest will accomplish the result aimed at by the Democrats who subscribed to the fund to open boxes. The Republicans have been gathering evidence to make a contest on Fishback and Frederick for three days at the Recorder's office, and if it is decided on we will not have a half a day to set forth what we believe to be facts. The committee might change but I think as it stands now there will be no contest from the Democratic side.

E. C. Slefin of Slevin & Stone, who we end is one neased as Democratic counsel by the committee, stated this morning that he knew but little about it. "As far as I am concerned," said Mr. Slevin, "I see nothing to be gainet by a contest."

Brennan Must Go.

It is stired semi-officially that Dr. W. N. Brennar, Health Commissioner, will be the first vicim of the reform movement to be first vicim of the reform movement to be started by Mayor Walbridge. The scalp of the late Mayor's brother-in-law is coveted by a grat many Democrats as well as Republicans. The information necessary to bring chargesind remove Brennan has been furnished fayor Walbridge, and the decapitation is looked for in a few days. The successor of Dr. Brennan will, however, cause trouble. In the eyes of the buth St. Louis Republicans Dr. Max Starkicf is the man. The Council, however, makes he selection, and, it is claimed, do not take Mindly to Dr. Starkioff. While the removil will cause great rejoicing in the Republican camp the appointment is certain to cause 170%.

walk Market Vending. Mayor Walbridge has decided to grant no permits to the hundreds of market venders who have heretofore occupied the sidewalks on Broadway and Third streets in the vicinity of the Round Top Market.

This ends an interesting fight that has been in progress between the city and property owners for some time past.

It appears that originally the property owners for some time past.

It appears that originally the property owners in that locality were accustomed to rent pertions of their sidewalks to these market venders, peddlers and others, and then the latter would get the necessary permit from the Mayor to prevent their being molested by the police, when the city authorities interfered and claimed the right to receive the rental paid the property-owners. This the property-owners disputed in the courts and they won the case.

Toward the latter part of Mayor Noonan's administration pressure was brought to bear on him to refuse to issue these permits as these venders interfere with the regularly licensed shops and stall-keepers at the markets.

No definite action was taken by Mayor Noonan who left the problem for his successor.

FAIR GROUNDS NOTES.

The Horses that worked out this morning at the Fair Grounds will, in all probability, be arters in Saturday's races.

Mollie Bawn, P. J. Mullally's 8-year-olds starters in Saturday's races.

Mollie Bawn, P. J. Mullelly's 3-year-olds moved three-fourths fast and strong, but is hardly up to a bruising race yet.

Lucile Mannett, C. C. Mamit's fleet mare, was sent a mile, going the distance apparently easy in 1:40.

Megeranso, "Lucky" Raldwin's 5-year-old mare, worked five-eighths with the good cottean Francisco, the mare beating him quite handlin, in 1:05. This is the fastest work that has been done on the Fair Grounds course this season and Esperanza will without doubt win her first start. Harding also sent Santiago one and one fourth miles at a good stiff pace. His legs, which troubled him last year to a great oxtent, seemed to give him no bother in his work this morning.

Kenwood, Charley Mulholland's Inaugural candidate, moved six furlongs in 1:18%, finishing strong and fighting for the bit.

R. Wraussman had out Gen. Mitchell, giving him a good stiff gallop of a mile.

St. Joe was sent half a mile in fast time and considering his recent trials should carry a good bulk of public money in his first start. Boo wick showed well through the stretch in :20%; he being still highin flesh will not do for some time yet.

2605; he being still high in flesh will not do recome time yet.
Sully, another inaugural candidate, was not three-quarters in 1:1912, quitting badly ge last one-eighth.
May Blossom is gradually rounding into remand may do in a few weeks.
Among the arrivals this morning at the air Grounds were T. A. Cook with thirteen ighbred coits from Oklaboma. Gov. nel with twelve, among which is Lorengo, he much touted Inaugural candidate, also crived. G. W. Leahy & Son got in with Oreon, Eclipse, Baigowan and a lot of 2 year-nave the mount on the mare Highland in the Inaugural Saturday.

John Hambrics, President of the Madison Jockey Club, has made preparations to go on the block at the Fair Grounds Saturday.

VAN NESS AND MORELLO ARRIVE.

horse in the United States, arrived in this city this morning. In addition to Morello, Van Ness has brought Fitzsimmons, Zampost, India Rubber and eight others. Hennessy, the regular jockey of the stable, also came up with the string. Van Ness registered at the Moser Hotel early this morning, and left immediately to stable his string at ithe FairGrounds.

Van Ness had considerable difficulty in unloading his stable and did not get them out to the grounds until this afternoon. He was too busy to enter into a discussion of the merits and demerits of his exclusion, but said that the jockey clubs that accepted his entries and his money could be forced to allow his horses to run and were doing him an injustice by excluding him. He said that he hoped for favorable treatment at the hands of the St. Louis Jockey Club, but had as yet received no assurances from them.

LOCAL TURF GOSSIP.

The South Side managers have postponed and wet weather which prevails. The South Side meeting was to have been opened to-night, but yesterday horsemen and Ington Park meeting will open. Lexington Park meeting will open. Lexington will close May 8 and Nnshville the day following. Then May 10 Louisville will take up the battle with St. Louis and continue running at Churchill Downs until May 19, the day before the Latonia Jockey Cub of Cincinnati commences its spring meeting, which will not adjourn until June 23, when the Fair Grounds meeting will also be brought to a close.

Every association party to the conflict in the West seems to have the utmost confidence in the success of its meeting, as there will be enough local interest at all the points mentioned to make racing profitable and enough horses and bookmakers to go around. There will, however, be considerable messing about of stake candidates, as the lists of entries at all the condicting tracks are to a great extent identical.

In the East Washington will close with Elikabeth, which does not close until May 5, and with Gloucester which can, however, easily hold its racing material. Washington will pot want for good horses, as many of the best stake animals in the East, were trained and raced into form over the Capitol City course. The big season in the East will be inaugurated at Brooklyn May 18, when the track agreed on a host the management of the track agreed on a postponement and the track will not open until Thursday night, May 4. The present programme, however, will stand. The South the management this year lave spent several thousand dollars in improving their electric light service and now when they report order so that the improvement in lighting can be seen to the best advantage.

Jockey Willie Harris is in fine fettle and will ride the opening day at the Fair Grounds. Willie weighed 120 pounds this management this year lave spent several thousand dollars in improving their electric light service and now when they received light service

Fantastic, the favorite, won the first race at the course across the river yesterday, but was disqualified for interfering with Leon II. who was awarded first money. BIG TROTTING PURSES. Driving Park Association has decided upon giving two special purses at its August meeting, one of $20,000 and the other $10,000. The former is for the free-for-all class, and al-ready ten of the fastest horses on the turf have entered, among them being Martha Wilkes, Belle, Vara and Hamlin's Nightin-gale. The second great purse is free-for-all pacing.

New York, April 27.—If all goes well dur-ing the ensuing two weeks, a new and pecuing the ensuing two weeks, a new and peou-liar paper will start on the thorny road for patronage. Its columns will be devoted to politics and sport. Dick Croker, Tammany's chieftain, and Mike Dwyer are to furnish the sinews of war. The paper will be modeled after the London Hour. George Dickinson will be the editor, and John E. McDonald the business manager.

MORE LAW STITS FOR ELIZABETH ELIZABETH, N. J., April 27 .- Sheriff Wm. H. Hicks of Union County has attached the property of the New Jersey Jockey Club in a suit brought by Pat Coleman for $720,000. The suit brought by Pat Coleman for $720,000. The seizure of the property is for the purpose of collecting penalties for the infraction of the law in conducting a race track. The suit has been penaling for some time and is brought under the old law. The seizure will not interfere with the operation of the track. Hacing will be continued. The suit is of the same nature as those brought against Monmouth Park.

MISSOURI SADDLE-HORSE BREEDERS.

MEXICO, Mo., April 27.—The Saddle-horse

Mexico, Mo., April 27 .- The Saddle-horse Breeders' Association of Missouri held its annual meeting at the Ringo Hotel parlors annual meeting at the Ringo Hotel parlors last night. Reports of the Executive Committee showed increased interest in breeding, sale and handling of saddle-horses; also that the membership, has doubled within a year. The association recommended six persons to the World's Fair management as competent saddle-horse judges. Officers were selected for the coming year. C. H. Gordon, Sedalia, President; J. M. Monsees, Smithton, Vice-President; J. A. Potts, Mexico, Secretary; R. Y. Freeman, Mexico, Treasurer.

had won the Cauffeld Grand National with 104 pounds up, se he had to carry more in the next race.

C. H. Hamlin, owner of the Village Farm stables, Ruffalo, has made an engagement with the State Boa dof Agriculture to attempt to beat the world's double team during the State Fair at Indianapolis. The team will be made up from Belle Hamlin's Globe, Justina and Honest George. Mr. ramlin says he believes he can beat the world's record on the Indianapolis track.

Darf, the 2-year old which beat a good field at Memphis recently, was bought by the Scoggans at Chicago last summer at the sale of yearlings at Washington Park. At the time the colt was in a somewhat precarious condition as the result of a railway accident, but the Scoggans risked paying 3650 for him. John Coughlin, who has a great weakness for Faustus coits, would have bid over this sum, but he arrived at the sale too late.

Two new factors have appeared in the Brooklyn

A long-suffering public will be relieved hinged upon the exchange of Messrs. Gumbert and Stratton between Louis-ville and Chicago. From the way ville and Chicago. From the way the affair was discussed by base ball writers one would think the strain was so tense that it would surely snap and leave, the world of fans in a collapsed state. But nothing serious happened. Mr. Gumbert can play ball if he chooses with Chicago at reduced rates, Mr. Stratton will do the same and if he has not laid off to recover from the results of excessive advertising may pitch for the Colonels here this afternoon.

JUDGMENT AGAINST CARUTHERS. William M. McNell was given a judgment in a Chicago court Saturday for $1,500 against Bob Caruthers, who captained the Browns the latter part of last season, and is a member of Anson's aggregation this year. The plaintiff alleged that he lent that much money to Caruthers at various times, genorally in sums of $100. Caruthers was in the habit of coming to him when in financial distress. Sometimes he wanted money to get his watch out of pawn and sometimes to recover a diamond pin he had pledged to bridge over financial straits. The judgment was entered by agreement.

ORGANIZING A WESTERN LEAGUE.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 26.—A meeting of Western base ball magnates was held here to-day to organize a Western League. At the morning session there were present George Tebeau, representing Pueblo and Denver; Tebeau, representing Pueblo and Denver; Charles Fechheimer, representing Wichita, Kan., and John Speas and L. C. Krauthoff, representing Kansas. Mr. Krauthoff was chosen temporary chairman and James Whitefield, sporting editor of the Star was made Secretary. Delegates from Omaha, Des Moins, Sloux City, Topeka and St. Joe will arrive this afternoon, when the organization will be perfected.

MUSIC AND SUNSHINE AT CINCINNATI. CINCINNATI, O., April 27.-The Cincinnati championship season on the regular schedule date since the organization of the American Association in 1882. At a late hour

American Association in 1882. At a late hour last night the prospect for the game at the local park did not look very flattering for the showers of the day kept up till midnight. The day dawned bright and clear, however, and there is now scarcely a doubt that "play ball" will be heard at the time set for the opening game with Capt. Anson's celebrated Chicago team.

The gates will open at 1 o'clock and the open air concert by Weber's Orchestra will begin haif an hour later.

Darby, the new pitcher recently released by Philadelphia without a trial and later engaged by Capt. Comiskey, arrived to-day. He comes highly recommended by Jack Royle and Tim Keefs. It is not certain that Morgan Murphy will sign with the Cincinnaticibly this season. He is holding back on the price, and President Brush does not regard him as indispensable to the success of the club, although he would like to see him in his old position again.

"JESSE JAMES" WALTERS.

"JESSE JAMES" WALTERS. "Of all the Jesse James umpires I ever looked at," said Bug Holliday after Sunday's game, "that fellow Walters is the worst. We had no chance to win. I know it is an old gag to spring talk about being robbed by the umpire, but I am telling you the truth when I say we would have won that game in a canter if we had been given a half a chance."

"Buck" Ewing prophesies that the Pitts-burgs or Clevelands will win the champion-ship for 1893. It is the first time in ten years that "Buck" has overlooked the New Yorks in picking a winner. Can't be possible that "Buck" forgot the Giants this time!
Chicago "Tom" Burns has signed to manage the Springfield Club of the Eastern League. It is safe to say that Mr. Burns' contract contains a clause which will permit him to open a jackpot once in a while, provided, of course, he holds openers.
Manager Hanlon says he has a base ball surprise in Reitz, his new second baseman. But it is rather early yet to record all the neat things Hanlon says about his players.

THE LIBERTY BELL.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 27 .- Day had scarcel dawned before the vicinity of the Union Station, where that ancient symbol of the country's independence—the time-staine

liberty bell-on its way to Chicago, guarde

by the escort, had remained in the drizzling rain, was alive with animation as the early risers flocked from every direction to obtain a glimpse of it.

When the car attached to the Pullman train left at 7:80 o'clock the Philadelphia delegation were still in their berths, having returned late after the banquet at the Duquesne Hotel. As it left the station many attempts were made to obtain a relic of its visit to the city in the shape of coins placed on the track and flattened by the wheels.

A large crowd greeted the train at Allegheny, where the scenes of last night and yesterday were again repealed. After a stop of five minutes the train pulled out for the West. There were enthusiastic demonstrations at Sewickley, Rochester, Alliance and other points along the route. The train is expected to reach Chicago to-morrow evening at 9 o'clock.

We extend our congratulations to Prof. Hicks for the accuracy of his weather prognostigations. But we enter a mild protest against the KIND OF WEATHER he has been giving us. It's all very well to have March weather in March, but when it comes to mixing up December, February and June all in one month we take advantage of that portion of the Constitution which allows all loyal Americans to kick, and we-KICK !. If Mr. Hicks will do us the favor to change this state of things so the notes of the blue bird (who is now due) may be heard, he will confer a favor.
